About the Organisation and Programme:

Bodh Shiksha Samiti is a not for profit organisation (based out of Jaipur) working in the field of quality education for the last 30 years. The organization strives to contribute towards ensuring equitable quality education for all the children irrespective of their socio, economic backgrounds. Bodh also works closely with the state governments to strengthen the public education system so that the quality of education provided to the masses improves and becomes what the national curriculum aims to be ensuring.

The positions are for Centre for Education and Learning, a research and development centre established in Bodh's Jaipur campus for finding material, strategic and capacity building solutions to the problems faced in school education. The centre is established recently and is in the initial phase of evolution. The centre is presently supported financially by The Michael and Susan Dell Foundation and The Avanti Learning Centre.

Roles & Responsibilities:

- The Teacher Fellows would provide academic support to a set of 4 schools each (on mobile basis) to improve its quality.
- The onsite support would include taking demonstration classes (with the help of the content made available), working closely with the Principal to implement school improvement programmes and working closely with the teachers of their subjects.
- Any other task pertaining to organisation and the programme.

Qualification and Experience:

- Masters (In the subject for which they are applying). Candidates applying for social science should be comfortable with at least 2 of the 4 subjects taught in the secondary grades – political science, history, geography and economics.
- Two years of prior experience of working with Government schools would be preferred.

Note: Only a person who is willing to work for at least one year in the institution should apply.
